

The Two Debtors

Bible Verse

Everybody who hears these words of mine and puts them into practice is like a wise builder who built a house on bedrock. Matthew 7:24

Did You Know?

Today's Bible story is a short parable Jesus told about two debtors. The men owed different amounts of money; one owed a little money and the other owed a lot. When both men's debts were forgiven, Jesus posed the question of which man would be more grateful. As with many of his stories, Jesus told this parable in order to teach a lesson. The lesson related to this parable is about forgiveness.

It is important to look at the verses that come before this parable in order to understand the context in which Jesus was speaking. Jesus was a guest at the home of a Pharisee named Simon. Jesus had been invited to a banquet at Simon's home. Such occasions were much more public than a dinner party at a private home would be today. The invited guests, including Jesus, were likely reclined on pillows in Simon's home, gathered around a mat that held the food. The presence of uninvited guests gathered around the walls inside the house or in the courtyard, attempting to see who was at the banquet, would not have been uncommon in those days. As Jesus was eating, one of these uninvited guests (a woman) approached him. The woman washed Jesus' feet with her tears, used her hair to dry his feet, then anointed his feet with oil she had brought with her. Jesus' host, Simon, grumbled about the woman's actions and about Jesus permitting the woman to wash his feet.

It is in this context that Jesus told the parable of the two debtors. Jesus' question about which debtor would be more grateful is directed at Simon, who hesitantly answered that the one with the greatest forgiven debt would be most grateful. Jesus used this parable to illustrate the power of forgiveness. The woman had experienced the forgiveness of her sins and responded with overwhelming love for Jesus. Simon, on the other hand, hadn't even extended to Jesus the hospitality of washing his feet when he arrived. Simon hadn't experienced the same forgiveness as the woman, not because his sins were less, but because he didn't recognize his need for forgiveness. We know that God forgives our sins. According to this parable, the appropriate response is gratitude.
